The LA Sports scene leaves something to be desired.

Kobe Bryant is a spoiled crybaby. Nomar phones it in. Joe Torre has yet to impress me. I can't name a single Kings player. I DO seem to remember something about the Anaheim Ducks winning something. Oh and there hasn't been a football team for a decade and a half. If we didn't have the AVP, I'd have to move.

Dull, complacent, limp-- that's the LA Sports Scene. Until now.

Leave it to a bunch of gals to bring some ball bearings into this struggling sports town. Ladies and Gentlemen, I present the LA DERBY DOLLS.
