

And The Winner Is!

Written by Dave Howard

Misty May has chosen her new partner. The most coveted spot in the sand goes to 2009 MVP Nicole Branagh.

With Kerri Walsh preggers and Misty returning after a year, Misty had to pick someone. But Branagh's former partner, the MacEncroe of the Beach, Elaine Youngs has gotta be pissed.

With Misty out of the way last year, EY was free to trample the tourney circuit. And with Branagh by her side she was damn near unstoppable. This leaves the court legend scrambling for someone new. Diggers worthy of EY's partnership are few. After their previous doomed partnering, Rachel Wacholder (the most eligible partner on the beach) is out. Boss and Ross are stuck like glue. Angie Akers, an explosive player, may be prove to be TOO kinetic. Most likely this is EY's last season (although I have said that for many years) so she can go with an old pal or the new kid on the block. So 2009 Rookie of The Year, Raquel Caulkins.or 2009 Best Blocker Lisa Rutledge would fit that bill.

And The Winner Is!

Written by Dave Howard

SECOND PLACE: The two triathletes, who were both wearing green sports bras, are celebrating their victory. The athlete on the left is holding a green bottle of champagne.